

young achiever

CHAMPIONSHIP WINNERS "Not the Droids You Are Looking For"

The FIRST LEGO League Western Pennsylvania Championship Tournament was held on January 9, 2016 at LaRoche College. Seventy-three teams from around the region competed at this event. FIRST LEGO League is an international robotics tournament for children between the ages of 9 and 16 and is a partnership between the FIRST organization and the LEGO Group. It has more than 30,000 teams participating globally in an annual theme-based challenge that involves designing and programming a LEGO robot, conducting a research study, and teamwork.

The winning team from Western Pennsylvania was "Not the Droids You Are Looking For" from Fox Chapel, PA. This team is made up of two brothers, Sanjay and Arvind Seshan. They won First Place Robot Game for the highest robot performance score as well as First Place Champion. Sanjay and Arvind Seshan are also the founders of EV3Lessons.com, an educational website that teaches over 30,000 students how to program LEGO robots.